DOUGLASS COLONY GROUP PROUDLY ACCEPTS ACE AWARD RECOGNITIONS

November 8, 2011 (DENVER), Douglass Colony Group received two prestigious honors at the 2011 Associated General Contractors (AGC) ACE Awards for Construction Excellence. Douglass Colony was awarded Gold in the “Corporate Promotions” category which recognizes the effective use of brochures, newsletters, website or other promotional materials, concepts, events, and activities. Douglass Colony’s work on the St. Anthony’s project was awarded Silver in the “Subcontractor-Project of the Year ($2-$6 million)” category.

AGC states that “The Award for Construction Excellence (ACE) is an annual recognition program that recognizes AGC members for their projects based on many facets of construction – dynamic design, quality, skill, strength and performance.” This year celebrates the 24th year of the award ceremony, where top general contractors, subcontractors (specialty), and associate members gather to celebrate construction excellence in the state of Colorado.

Since combining companies in 2009 to form Douglass Colony Group, Douglass has worked vigorously to promote the brand name and corporate image within the construction industry and Colorado community. Through creative campaigns and strategic corporate promotions, our signature orange bars are prominently displayed online, marketing collateral pieces, events/tradeshows, and even on our company trucks. Douglass Colony has maintained a quality brand name by serving the Rocky Mountain community for over 64 years. This merger and name change are only the next phase of quality and excellence from a company that continues to lead the commercial roofing industry.

The St. Anthony’s hospital project is noteworthy in the construction industry, but also within Douglass Colony Group. To date, this is one of the largest roofing projects Douglass Colony Group has completed. Douglass Colony installed 180,000 sq.ft. tan TPO roof membrane, custom flashing and sheet metal, and composite panels and soffits.

AGC Colorado presented a total of twenty-nine awards in 14 different categories on Friday, November 4, 2011 at the 2011 ACE Awards at the Hyatt Regency in Denver, CO.
